MURDER TRIAL IS READY TO START

Court Today Orders 50 Names Drawn
For An Extra Panel For Jury
Service For Monday

STATE AGAINST CECIL CLOUD

Accused of Shooting Luther Sharp,
Former Councilman—Witnesses
Also are Summoned

A special venire of 50 prospective
takersmen of jury service Monday
was ordered this morning in the circuit court by Judge Will M. Sparks
in preparation for the murder trial,
when Cecil Cloud will go on trial on
the charge of shooting Luther C.
Sharp, former city councilman.

It will be the first murder trial in
the local court for several years and
it is expected that one of the largest
crowds on record will try to gain
entrance into the court room.

The case will get under way Monday, unless some unforeseen thing
happens, as both the state and defense are making preparations for
the trial. Sheriff S. L. Hunt is busy
summoning the witnesses, and in all
the state has subpoenaed 50.

It is very probable that the first
day will be given over to the selection of a jury, as much trouble may be experienced because the facts
in the case have been generally broadcast.

Cloud has been held in jail since
his arrest several weeks ago, and
will go on trial on a grand jury indictment, charging first degree murder, which upon conviction carries
with it the death sentence, or imprisonment for life.

There never has been any complete
outline of the case published, but it is understood that the state has obtained considerable evidence, along
various lines, and which will be presented to the jury. Several valuable witnesses lived in Rushville, it is said,
and two of the main witnesses for the state are now held in jail, unable to provide bond as witnesses.

The jury commissioners were expected to meet late today or in the morning, and draw out the 50 names
who will be asked to report for jury
service Monday morning.

Salem Man Seeking Republican Nomination For Governor Has Many Friends Here

HELPED IN PAST CAMPAIGNS

Edgar Bush of Salem, Ind., candidate for the Republican nomination
for governor of Indiana, will speak
in the interest of his candidacy at
the court house assembly room Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, according
to word received today by some of his friends, who were asked to make arrangements for the meeting.

Mr. Bush, who was formerly lieutenant-governor of Indiana, has many friends in Rush county, as he has spoken here in past campaigns, and on one or two occasions has been one of the speakers on the county
automobile tour that the republicans
use during each campaign, to reach
all of the communities of the county.

Mr. Bush will be the second republican candidate for the gubernatorial
nomination to speak in Rush-
ville, Mayor Lew Shank of Indianapolis having spoken here recently.

It is expected that Ed Toner
of Anderson, Ed Jackson of Indianapolis and Ora Davis of Terre Haute, all
seeking the same nomination, will visit
the county before the primary on Tuesday, May 6.

LAST GYM CLASS TONIGHT

The last session of the business
men's gymnasium class will be held
at the Graham Annex gymnasium this evening at 6:45 o'clock. The class
has been meeting weekly since the latter part of last year, under the direction of Albert F. Cotton, director of physical education in the public schools.

REGULAR PRAYER MEETING

There will be prayer meeting service at the First Baptist church tonight with Wilbur Mahin in charge
of the services. Owing to the illness
of the pastor, the Rev. R. W. Sage,
many thought there would be no services tonight at the church.

Arlington Merchant Will Stand Trial
on Law Violation Charge

Maek Addison, a merchant of Arlington, appeared this morning in Justice Stech's court and pleaded not guilty to a charge of selling cigarettes to a minor, and will face trial
on the charge.

He is charged with an affidavit
with selling the cigarettes to Rayland Andrews, a minor. The case has been set for trial March 20 at ten o'clock.

The Louisville Paper company has
filed suit in Justice Stech's court
against M. J. Mascari, the complaint
being on an account and with the demand for $75 judgment. The case has been set for March 17 at ten o'- clock.

WRECKERS MAKE SWIFT PROGRESS

Down to First Floor in Work of Tear-
ing Down North and East Walls
of I. O. O. F. Building

WILL FINISH IT NEXT WEEK

No Definite Agreement Reached Between Lodge and Bank Regarding
The New Structure

Wreckers who are engaged in tearing down the north and east walls of
the Odd Fellow building have been making rapid progress this week and today were working on the walls of the first floor. It is not expected that they will make such a showing on the walls of the first story, however, as
the rafters are still in place and several steel beams will have to be removed.

The way the wreckers have been
walking around on top of the narrow
walls, many feet above the ground,
apparently not concerned about the
danger in which they constantly
worked, has been the marvel of
scores of watchers who have been on hand most of the time to watch the destruction of the old walls.

It is reported that no definite
agreement has been reached between
the Rush county National bank,
which had a perpetual lease on the
old building and has the right, under
the terms of a contract, to erect the
top story of the building.

The failure of the bank and lodge
to come to terms regarding the size
and design of a proposed new building, may delay the beginning of construction work, it is now believed, because the rapidly with which the wreckers have been working means
that the site will be cleared some time next week; so that the new building could be started.

Some time ago, it was stated that
the new building would be only two stories, with the lodge occupying the second floor, but it is now stated on
good authority that there is a disposition in some quarters to add another
story and use the second floor for another purpose, with the lodge on
the top floor.

What will come of this agitation,
no one is prepared to say, but it is known that a number interested in
the project think that the building
should be three stories high.

Urged to View Herron Exhibit of Artists and Craftsmen

The school teachers of Indiana,
within a radius of fifty miles of Indianapolis, are invited to visit the
John Herron Art Institute, corner of Sixteenth and Pennsylvania streets,
Indianapolis, and see the exhibition
work of artists and craftsmen of Indiana, which is now on view, according to word received here today.

Saturday has been set aside for
the visit of school teachers and the
invitation is being extended through
the press. A lecture on the work exhibited will be given at 2:30 o'clock.

The exhibit includes all the work
that has been done within the past
twelve months in painting, sculpture
and all of the divisions of arts and crafts.

Washington, March 13—Saturday
is the last day for filing your income tax return.

By that day you must make your return on the income received in 1923 and pay at least one quarter
of the taxes.

If you neglect to do this, you are
in danger of a fine of $1,000 plus
a penalty of 25 per cent of the amount
of your income tax, unless you can show something in the reason for failing to get in the return on time.

If you will fully refuse to make a
return the penalty is $10,000 fine, a
year in prison and a 25 per cent
boost in your tax.

Every single person with a net income of $1,000 or more and every
married person with $2,000 or more
must file a return if his personal exemptions relieve him from paying

taxes.

Taxpayers will not be entitled to
the 25 percent rebate on 1923 taxes
which has been talked about in congress.

A provision in such a rebate is carried in the tax bill passed by the
house but it cannot get through the senate in time. The separate resolution providing for this reduction
has struck a snag and cannot pass
by Saturday.

However, taxpayers who, relying
on promises by congressional leaders that the 25 per cent rebate would
be granted, take it off their taxes,
will not be penalized by the treasury. They will simply be notified
they are not entitled to it, treasury
officials said.

KENYON BEING URGED TO ACCEPT POSITION

Some of His Friends Advise Him Not

TO GIVE HIS ANSWER TODAY

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 3—Judge William S. Kenyon, former senator from Iowa, today will tell President Cool-
idge whether he will accept appointment as Secretary of the Navy Den-
by's successor.

Kenyon, judge of the eighth United States circuit, has been warmly urged by Mr. Coolidge to accept but some of his friends have advised him
not to.

Their argument was that while
Mr. Coolidge has indicated a great compliment to Kenyon's spotless reputation by picking him as the man
he desired to head the navy in the
situation growing out of the oil lease
investigation. Kenyon has everything
to lose and nothing to gain.

Kenyon would be giving up a life
position to take another which is certain only until March 4, 1925. The navy is not in Kenyon's line of work
and when he was appointed to the
bench by the late President Harding
he indicated a desire to get out of politics for good. Kenyon was first suggested recently as a successor to Daugherty as attorney general.

STUDENT BREAKS OUT WITH THE SMALLPOX

Lowell Craig is Found Suffering With Disease and Graham High School is Dismissed

BUILDING TO BE FUMIGATED

Students in the Graham high school building were dismissed shortly after noon today, when it was discovered that Lowell Craig, high school student, was broken out with the smallpox and attended classes
this morning. The building was emptied and a thorough fumigation was begun at once, and the school will reopen Monday morning.

The Craig boy, who is the son of Mrs. Inez Craig, 834 North Harrison street, was in school this morning
and his eruptions were plainly visible,
and when examined by a physician,
he was pronounced as having a case of smallpox.

School authorities were urging that students be vaccinated, although the order was not compulsory. There was no school scheduled for Friday, and this will give the building ample time to be fumigated before the opening on Monday morning.

Federal Judge Issues Temporary Restraining Order Against Drilling In Teapot Dome

HEARING IN WYOMING COURT

Attorneys Representing Government Planned Three Legal Actions to Recover Leases

(By United Press)

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 13—The government today won the first victory in the battle to cancel the lease held by Harry F. Sinclair on Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

Following a preliminary hearing,
Judge T. Blake Kennedy in federal district court here indicated he would issue a decree providing:

1—For a temporary injunction restraining the mammoth oil company from drilling any further wells in the reserve.

2—For the appointment of Rear
Admiral Joseph Straus and A. E.
Watts as receivers for the reserve
pending a final decision on the suit
to break the lease.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 13—The
legal battle to restore Teapot Dome oil reserve to custody of the navy department, and cancel the lease contract now held by Harry F. Sinclair, was scheduled to start today in federal court here.

Atlee Pomerene and Owen Roberts, attorneys appointed by President Coolidge to attempt to recover Teapot Dome and the naval oil lease
in California, planned to start three legal actions. These included:

1—Petition for an injunction to stop removal of additional oil from the reserves.

2—Petition for receivership against the Teapot Dome property.

3—Petition to have the contract
under which the lease was granted set aside.

Sinclair was personally on the ground to direct the battle to protect his contract and lease. He was accompanied by a corps of brilliant attorneys, including Martin W.
Littleton of New York and J. W.
Zevely, Sinclair's counsel.

Fall Issued Order

Washington, March 13—Albert B.
Fall, as secretary of interior, issued the order on which the navy department sent Marines to Teapot Dome
in 1922 to eject "squatters," Theodore Roosevelt, acting navy secretary and Major General John A. Le-

Daugherty Inquiry Committee Investigation Reported Meeting at
The White House

Divorced Wife of Jesse Smith,
Friend of Attorney General, Re-
sumes Story Today

(By United Press)

Washington, March 13—A reported White House conference attended by Attorney General Daugherty,
E. L. Doheny, Harry Sinclair and
the late president Harding was being investigated today by the senate
committee, investigating the department of justice.

According to the story told the committee, Daugherty, Sinclair and Doheny spent the night preceding
Jesse Smith's death at the White House.

Daugherty, it was recalled today
was at the White House eating
breakfast when the news of his friend Smith's suicide, was broken to
him.

Pending the clearing up of this report, the committee prepared today to continue questions of Mrs.
Roxie Stinson, Smith's divorced
wife who yesterday began her testimony.

Senator Wheeler said Mrs. Stin-
son had "not begun to tell her full
story." She desires so far as possible to shield Smith's name.

Closely guarded, at her own request, the widow of Jesse Smith, who
committed suicide in Daugherty's
apartment last Decoration day, was
kept in seclusion until time for her
to resume her sensational story of
intrigue, stock deals and self-sacrifice.

The soft-spoken woman who told
the committee with many tears late
yesterday at the start of the open
hearings of the friendship and partnership of Jesse Smith and the attorney general, had much more to reveal, according to Senator B. K.
Wheeler, Montana, chief prosecutor.
She was to take the stand again at 2 p. m. and it was doubtful, according to Wheeler, if any other witnesses would be heard today.

The story as told thus far by Mrs.
Smith who was divorced from Smith
but remained an intimate friend to
the time of his suicide, was a sketchy
one. She touched lightly upon mysterious "deals" of which she had
apparently intimate knowledge, especially regarding the profits, in oil
and automobile stocks, in which she shared.

She alleged, under prompting by Senator Wheeler:

That Jesse Smith "adored" Harry Daugherty and gave "his life" for the attorney general.

That Smith, coming to Washington
after the election of President Harding became involved in a mass of intrigue from which in the end he found such self destruction the only escape.

That Smith and Daugherty were involved in a "deal" concerning exhibition of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight pictures which was to net them
a profit of $180,000.

That she herself was given 25 shares of White Motors stock, which her ex-husband told her, "didn't cost us anything."

That at another time she received

ITALIAN CONSUL SPEAKS TO CLUB

Dr. V. Lapenta Addresses Kiwanians
on Achievements of Fascisti Regime in Italy

Says League of Nations is Not Place
to Settle Affairs of National Honor

Explaining the doctrine of the Fascisti and its leader and chief ex-
ponent, Premier Mussolini of Italy,
and showing that the Italian leader
has the same ideals as true American citizens, Dr. V. Lapenta, Italian
consul, of Indianapolis, delivered a flery address before the Kiwanis club today noon.

Dr. Lapenta came here at the invitation of John H. Kiplinger, who
in introducing the Italian consul, recalled how he had seen the beginning
of the new movement to combat
communism in Milan in the fall of 1920 and had witnessed the celebration at the same place last fall.

Dr. Lapenta explained the Corfu
incident, when Mussolini seized the
island to compel the Greek government to salute the Italian flag after five Italian officers, members of a league of nations boundary commission, had been brutally murdered in Greece by Greek officers in the employe of a Greek military clique.

The Italian government representative asserted that Mussolini held on that occasion that the League of nations had no right to settle affairs
on honor between nations.

"He shaved down the league of
nations to the place where it belonged," declared Dr. Lapenta. "Mussolini said that national honor is
that aggregation of pride that comes
down from the beginning of the nation through the achievements of
the fathers and is not something that
have no such traditions."

Dr. Lapenta said that Italy was willing to be judged by an assemblage
of its peers, but that she would not
consent to have delegates from tribes
some of which have no nationality
whatever, and which are represented
in the league of nations as British
subjects, to pass on an affair of
national honor.

Dr. Lapenta outlined how communism tried to take advantage of the
unsettled conditions after the war
to seize control of government. He explained methods used by their
leaders in causing strikes and hoping to seize the mantle of authority
when the government was disrupted.

"They hoped to put in effect their
years of government experience
learned from the rule of the now deceased Lenin," said the Italian
consul in a sarcastic vein, and when
he mentioned the name of the late Russian premier, he did so with an expressive chuckle.

The government hesitated to use
the army against communism, he

cided upon today, and will be announced later.

BEE CONVENTIONS ARE ANNOUNCED

Inspectors From State Entomologist
Office to Discuss Various Phases of The Work

Later in Season Inspectors Inspect Colonies for Elimination of Diseases, Especially Foulbrood

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 13—Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist, today announced a series of county conventions for beekeepers, at which inspectors from his office will discuss with persons engaged in the industry, various phases of the work and organize for the coming season's campaign toward the elimination of bee diseases. Conventions already have been held this year at Aurora, Huntington, Albany, Evansville, Mt. Vernon, Booneville and Princeton. Future dates follow.

Oakland City March 18
Princeton March 19
Greenfield March 21

The state conservation department each spring conducts conventions in various parts of the state to instruct beekeepers in order that honey production be increased. Hundreds of beekeepers in the locality of the conventions attend, and tours are made during which demonstrations on practical beekeeping are given by state experts.

Later in the season inspectors tour the state, visit yards and inspect colonies for the elimination of diseases, particularly foulbrood. Since apian inspection work in Indiana was legislated to the entomologists' office in 1909, Indiana has made remarkable strides in honey production, now producing annually in excess of 6,000,000 pounds at a market value of $2,000,000.

SHOULD STUDY CROP SUCCESS CAREFULLY

According to Figures, Farmer Produces About Thirty Crops During His Life Time

URGES USE OF GOOD SEED

Lafayette, Ind., Mar. 13—The average farmer in Indiana retires at the age of 55. If the year's harvest is considered as a crop, then the average Hoosier farmer produces about thirty crops during his lifetime.

If it is true that each crop represents one-thirtieth of his life-work, he surely should bend every effort toward preventing a crop failure. With this viewpoint of the importance in time and money of each year's crop, every factor that leads toward crop success should be carefully considered.

There is one fundamental of crop success that is frequently neglected, according to A. A. Hansen of the Purdue university department of agricultural extension, and that is the use of good seed.

While it is perfectly obvious that without good seed a good crop is impossible, nevertheless many farmers either purchase seed blindly or use home grown seed that has not been re-cleaned.

Seed should never be purchased without first studying the data on the seed-law tag and home grown seed should never be used unless it is cleaned with a good fanning mill.

GIVES ATTENTION TO MARKETING OF HOGS

REALIZE BETTER PRICES

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 13—White officials of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation are concentrating efforts on the drive for members in the wheat pool for cooperative marketing of wheat, attention is also being given to the more thorough use of facilities offered by the cooperative associations for the marketing of hogs, Perry H. Crane, general secretary of the federation, said today.

Work is progressing satisfactorily in the diverting of farmers' livestock from regular commission channels to the cooperative agencies, Crane said.

"As a rule, the farmers have realized much better prices through our agents," Crane said.

The federation now maintains sales staffs in the East, Buffalo, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Chicago, Evansville and Indianapolis markets, for the disposition of livestock, he said. These are the principal markets where Indiana hogs are sold, Crane explained.

Crane estimated that about 30 percent of the receipts of the yards are handled by producers' commission association. During the last year the cooperative association handled $15,750,000 worth of hogs from Iowa he said.

JAPANESE BEETLE IS TO BE FEARED

State Entomologist Issues Warning
That Pest May Cause Much Trouble
in The State

ATTACKS GRASS AND SHRUBS

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 13—Owners of spacious lawns, golf courses and expansive landscapes may well be worried along with farmers and orchardists if the Japanese beetle comes to Indiana, for these places as well as small garden truck, various grain crops and fruits are potential food for the beetles, it is pointed out by Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist.

Backed by the conservation department of which his office is a division, Wallace is making a determined fight to have federal authorities appropriate sufficient funds for battling the beetle now confined to a zone in the vicinity of Philadelphia. Because there now is no known remedy for eradicating these beetles, Wallace believes every effort should be made to keep this latest menace in a restricted zone until science determines a method of holding it under control.

If this pest ever gets to Indiana the damage to crops and fruits will be enormous, conservation officials say. This Nipponese destroyer possesses an appetite for about every form of vegetable, grain, fruit and tree growth. It also devours flowers, grasses, shrubs, etc. Its reproduction is so prolific, and its appetite so voracious, that scientists do not hesitate to call it the "yellow peril" of the insect world.

WEBB MINSTREL TROOP IS INVITED TO APPEAR IN RIPLEY TOWNSHIP

Monday night the members of the Farmer's organization and the Parent-Teachers of Ripley township were very royally entertained by the Webb Minstrel troupe of the Webb community. The audience was in an uproar from the minute the curtains were drawn until the grand finale, "Good Night Ladies", with variations.

The minstrel was in the form of a school, with Oliver Mock, the very handsome and dress-suited professor. To the unusual ability of the cast was added a variety of outlandish costumes and exaggerated dialects. They all put their songs, jokes, capers and jigs across with more punch than had they been professionals. It was such a success that they have been asked to furnish the entertainment for the Ripley township Farm Bureau meeting this month.

A few of their most enjoyable specialties were "Oh, Sister Ain't that Hot," by Johnson and chorus; "Last Night on the Back Porch," by "Mandy" and "Cleo" and chorus; "Nearer and Dearer to Me," by "Nannie O'Rayne" and chorus; Jiggs by Eleyne Lacey and Mr. Manley and a sermon on "De Miracles" by Parson Sidebottom. A glance at the following cast should convince anyone of the range and variety of ability of the troupe.

Ik Mock, Professor of negroes; Hub Woods, Johnson; Mary Helen Jones, Mandy; Mr. Stumpt, Joshua; Tom Fair, Sampson; Mr. Klipsch, Parson Sidebottom; Mr. Horton, Rastus Brown; Mr. Patterson, Al Jolson Lawrence Davison, Mose Daniels; Thelma O'Reilly, Nannie O'Rayne; Mrs. Bert Osborne, Eleyne Lacey; Edith Lower, Miss Patsy Panecake; Lowell Osborne, Connie Kay; Bert Davison, Mr. Plunket; Mrs. O. Harton, Nancy Hodges; Claud Hilligoss, Mr. Manley; Rita Linville, Cleo; Earl Winship, William Easley; Bert Osborne, Dude Rodney.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

continued, fearing a bloody war, and finally Mussolini, a newspaper editor, led the Fascisti in open revolt against the reds, never hesitating to use violence when necessary, but depending upon the spoken and printed word.

Fascism is based on old principals restated, Dr. Lapenta declared, and its first conception is that the state represents no section or group of individuals, but is opposed to the fakery of public ownership. It wants to leave those things to individual initiative, he stated.

Dr. Lapenta presented the paradox in the theory that the state is for yet opposed to all individuals in that it protects their rights by seeing that they are not violated by individuals.

The second conception of Fascism, he continued, is that every individual, while free, owes something to the state, yet the state exists for the good of the individuals and the individuals not for the good of the state.

This is contrary to the socialistic view, he pointed out, which, having done away with God, has to set up something in his place and creates the super-state that controls the individual.

Dr. Lapenta declared Fascism is the regenerative factor in Italy and taken public utilities, which were lost and is ruining other states. It has taken public utilities, which were losing millions under government control, and placed them in charge of corporations, which are making profits and paying the government taxes.

Government expenses have been reduced, the speaker said, but the greatest accomplishment of the Mussolini regime has been the number of treaties of friendship and commerce with other governments. He told how the premier had helped Austria recover and solved the Fiume question thus removing a constant war menace in the Balkans.

Dr. J. Morgan was introduced as a new member of the club and Ed Shaw of Chicago and Judge Will M. Sparks and Roy E. Harrold were guests.

WOMAN WEAK DIZZY, FAINT

Found Relief in Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Always Recommends It

Bridgeport, Connecticut. — "I was completely run-down, had headaches, dizzy, faint feelings and other troubles women often have. As I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before, my husband said to take it again. I have now taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, the Liver Pills, and six boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets. I am feeling very good now and shall continue taking them for a while. I have been telling my cousin about the medicine and she wants to take it, too. I always recommend it." — Mrs. HENRY C. SMITH, R.F.D. No. 3, Box 6, Bridgeport, Conn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Smith's experience is but one of many.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 per cent. reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 1924

Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?—Isaiah 58: 7.

Why This Solicitude?

A writer in an advertising publication says that a large mail order house is trying to find out why farm products which net the man who raises them little or no profit, are sold to the ultimate consumer at prices which are prohibitive.

He goes on to say that this investigation may disclose the fact that the retail grocer, who in the small town insists that he is the true friend of the farmer and in the city poses as the friend of the consumer, may be shown up in rather unfavorable light. But the (naming the mail order house) will not lose any sleep if that happens, he continues. The retailer is no friend of theirs.

But did it ever occur to the mail order house, whose defender is bluntly honest about the mail order house attitude towards the retailer, that if it were not for the retailer, there would likely not be any prosperous communities from which the mail order houses could take their portion of flesh?

People gather together in towns and small cities such as ours, build what we call homes and dwell together in peace and harmony. Each man has his part in the community life. Some are retailers, some are professional men, some till the soil and others work at trades.

Certainly people would not establish homes, build streets and school houses and churches and the other adjuncts of community life, if there were not some retailers to supply their daily wants.

They could not depend on mail order houses in far distant cities that pose as friends of the people, yet exact a toll that yields immense profits for their stockholders.

Retailers are as necessary in community life as any other body of citizens and they know that the mail order houses, which beguile their customers with fine descriptions and misleading statements regarding articles, are no friends of theirs; neither are they friends of the people to whom they sell their goods.

The retailer is accountable to the people who trade with him. He is at the same stand every day and if his customers feel that they have not had fair treatment as to price or quality, they know it.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole
That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.
35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

they know where to make complaint. He is interested in everything that is for the best interests of the community. He pays taxes and helps support the churches, schools public improvements and every other worthwhile enterprise.

The mail order house, which has taken such a concern in the welfare of the farmer, has no interest in this community or any other, aside from how much revenue it will produce. The mail order house does not pay a cent towards educating our children, building our streets or public buildings; in fact, contributes nothing to the community.

They take money from the community and add nothing in return. Their solicitude for the farmer is almost pathetic. It must be that business is not so good—else why this sudden interest in the source of big profits.

Preserving Charm

To be a grandmother and yet preserve the lovely skin and charm of youth is the duty of every woman, according to a famous actress, who is not a grandmother, but who has tried to look like a girl of twenty, though she is three times that age.

"It is an antiquated idea that the ravages of advancing years should play havoc with a woman's beauty," she says. And again: "No woman of sixty or more advanced years need be without that beauty and 'charm' of youth if she will but use the aids of beauty preservation at her disposal."

Methods of preserving the bloom of youth are not enumerated, but the actress probably counted this as wasted words because no home is complete without that which brings the red glow to the cheek and beautiful lustre to the hair.

And the subject of hair is not even mentioned. Whether it is essential that grandmother have her gray locks bobbed in order to essay the roll of grand daughter is probably regarded as trivial, because the modern woman who never lets any grass grow under her feet, likewise never permits any hair to grow on her head.

There may come a day, of course when every flapper will know her own grandmother. Those who control the destinies of the weaker sex aver that it will be worn long again next winter, and when that day comes, the charm of youth may still be retained, even though the hair may be worn in a knot on the top of the head.

Methods of preserving beauty may have their part in the scheme of holding on to youth, but they are unavailing unless the vitality is preserved by clean living and good thoughts.

A senator leads a hard life these days. He never knows if a detective is protecting him or shadowing him.

The ex-kaiser is planting a rose garden, which is one way to get your flowers while you are living.

The interest on $70 will amount to $14,000,000 if you can afford to wait 300 years for it.

In St. Louis, a man of 76 married a woman of 74, this being the first sign of spring in St. Louis.

Now Sir Oliver Lodge is worried about the world, indicating he is getting along in years.

A big town is a place where a polite traffic cop may be charged with conduct unbecoming an officer.

What will they do in Washington when they run out of officials to be investigated?

Too Much Competition, Maybe (Macon Telegraph)

Well, one thing you may say for Magnus, he hasn't outtalked himself lately.

Hunt's Washington Letter

By HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer

Washington, March 13.—The "Social Bloc" is busy again. This time it is not after an "outsider", whom it can be dazzle with a view of the riches that can be enjoyed in Washington by one who is "in right", but one whom it feels should, because of his very wealth and influence, naturally fall within a charmed circle. Said individual being no less a person than James Couzens of Michigan, who probably possesses more millions than any other man in the United States Senate.

Couzens, however, is understood to recognize the net that is being spread to tame, through social entanglements, some of his "irregular" views on the subjects of taxation public ownership and similar issues close to the hearts of those who are socially mighty here.

Being a human individual and a gentleman, Couzens at first accepted graciously, though by no means enthusiastically, the invitations to dinners, receptions and affairs that recently began pouring in on him. But so heavy has become the social barrage, particularly since his set-to with Secretary Mellon over the administration tax reduction program, that Senator Jim is understood to be about ready to put on the brakes. He recognizes the game that is being played and is ready to pull out.

Not that he fears the bloc can snare him. He just doesn't want to raise their hopes unjustifiably. Nor waste the time!

Clinton W. Gilbert, who wrote "The Mirrors of Washington," has been peeping in all the looking glasses about the capital recently to see if he could catch a glimpse of an ideal candidate for president in 1924.

Apparently the candidates in the field are an uncouth bunch, who don't use mirrors in making up for the public, or else they are afraid to face themselves and Gilbert in the glass.

for he sums up the result of his quest thus tersely:

Although he has served Oklahoma in the Senate ever since she gained statehood, Owen announces he will not fight for re-election, this year. He expects to settle down in Mukogee after March 4, next, tend a home garden and devote his time to urging adoption of a simplified method of amending the constitution. And he defies anyone to prove him "un-American" because he thinks it should be amended.

The most dangerous fighter in the United States Senate, from a psycho-analytical standpoint, is Wheeler of Montana, the young member who forced through the resolution for an investigation of Atty. Gen. Daugherty.

When Wheeler gets into a scrap—and he's already headed into a number of battles, although this is his first time in Congress—he doesn't get peevish. He doesn't get dramatic. He doesn't pound his desk and wave his arms and rant.

Instead, he grins. And his smile is like a barb in the hide of his opponent, stinging him, goading him, baiting him to rash retort.

If the psychologist is right in saying "Look out for the man who smiles when he fights," his opponents had better look out for Wheeler.

Rushville, Ind., 1924
I wish to say a few words about the fad of putting flowers on the caskets of our loved ones. I think it very proper for home folks to do so, but I am opposed to those not of our own family asking others to contribute to what is strictly a family affair and for myself I would rather they would give to some one in need than they would spend for flowers.

In a few hours their beauty is all gone and the donors have contributed nothing to the happiness of the departed or cheered the mourners. It would certainly be much nicer to know they had contributed to the comfort of some one and it would be so easy to give a pair of gloves or over-shoes, a sweater to some boy or girl to wear to school.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR
STATE TOURNAMENT

Connersville has chartered a special train over the C. I. & W. railroad for the state tourney, leaving Connersville Friday morning at 10:00 going directly to the 38th street station, which is within two blocks of the fair grounds. One thousand people are expected on the train, and according to the newspaper, if Connersville wins their Friday afternoon game, the excursion will be repeated Saturday morning. The fare of $1.50 round trip is exceptionally low, and the business men of that city got behind the movement.

LET'S PUT RUSHVILLE THERE NEXT YEAR. THE TIME TO START IS RIGHT NOW.

Osborne and Davison, forward and center of Webb, both fine fellows, good players and practically Rushville boys, will come to Rushville to school next year, if given any kind of necessary give 'em a job that's the chance to start the ball to rolling for next year. Business men and merchants, basketball fans and school officials should make these boys feel at home, talk to them, and of encouragement. Here is your spirit that wins games.

Another candidate looms up from the Raleigh school. Newkirk, the floor guard, also a pivot man, and another fine chap, will come here if given the proper encouragement, so we are informed. Talk won't bring these fellows here alone. It will take honest to goodness friendliness and the right kind of spirit, and it might also take a job, as Hittin' 'em said before.

To conduct the spirit of basketball properly, it is necessary to have a booster organization, and the cities that have successful teams are the ones that have such organizations. Let's start right next fall, and be organized for every game. Down at Shelbyville every citizen is a booster club member. They must know the yells, or they can't belong.

In the meantime don't overlook the fact that it will take a new gym to get any place next year. It can't be built next fall and ready for the first game. A good schedule has been prepared for next year, and will be announced soon. The two things work together. The better the gym, the better the future schedules.

Let's go Shelbyville! You are the next state champion.—Newcastle Courier.

MAKES FAT PEOPLE SLIM

New York Physician Perfects Harmless Method of Reducing Weight

The loss of as much as a pound of excess fat a day with no harmful results is the record made by many patients of Dr. R. Newman, a licensed practicing physician of 286 Fifth Avenue, New York, who announces that he has perfected a treatment which has quickly rid fat people of excess weight. What is more remarkable is the Doctor's statement that he has successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction without change of diet or unnecessary exercise. It is also said that fat people who suffer from chronic rheumatism, gout, asthma and high blood pressure obtain great relief from the reduction of their superfluous flesh. Realizing that this sounds almost too good to be true, the Doctor has offered to send without charge to anyone who will write him, a free trial treatment to prove his claims, as well as his "Pay-when-reduced" plan. If you want to rid yourself of superfluous fat, write him today, addressing Dr. R. Newman, 286 Fifth Avenue New York City. —Advertisement

- Bedford
- Anderson
- Martinsville
- Frankfort
- Franklin
- Richmond
- Shelbyville
- Columbus
- Vincennes
- Bloomington

They are named in order of their strength at the time they were picked. The first seven presumably the strongest, will appear at the state tournament, while the last three, the weakest, were eliminated in the regionals. Maybe a Big Ten is worth while after all. —Marion Chronicle

IT WOULD MAKE US FEEL LIKE SINKING

We're longing for the old swimmin' hole, old top. After these many defeats in basketball, swimming is just about our favorite sport and our only solace.

HERE'S A BUM TIP

I've laid off this prediction stuff all season. Been playing hunches mostly and got one to whisper to you now. Confidentially, I believe Bedford will beat Anderson at the state tourney.

Anyway, We Wouldn't Expect 'Em to Take Part

Shelbyville high school was not represented at the meeting of high school principals of the sixth congressional district which was held Saturday afternoon at Richmond, Ind., for the purpose of effecting a district organization to sponsor district basketball tournaments each year. It is said that Tim Campbell, coach of the local team, does not favor the plan and that Shelbyville will probably steer clear of the association.

Morton Wins After Fight

"Dear Hoosier:—Here are the scores of all the games in the state tournament. You will notice, no doubt that I have Morton (Richmond) winning the final by a score of 47 to 43 over Anderson. Here they go:
Frankfort 42; Franklin 29
Morton (Richmond) 45; South Side (Fl. Wayne) 26
Michigan City 25; Wiley (Terre Haute) 17
Shelbyville 29; Rochester 15
Anderson 32; Bedford 30

Martinsville 45; Otterbein 28
Morton (Richmond) 35; Shelbyville 26

SPECIAL TRAIN TO TOURNNEY

C. I. & W. Will Operate Train Friday, Going Direct to Fair Grounds

A special train over the C. I. & W. railroad will be run Friday to Indianapolis, and a special low rate fare will be in effect for the service, according to an announcement today.
The train is sponsored by the Connersville business men who are behind the movement. The train will stop at Rushville for passengers, arriving here at 10:55 in the morning. The train will be transferred to the Monon line in Indianapolis, and taken directly to the 38th street station, which is within a block or two of the fair grounds, where the basketball tournament will be in progress. The train will leave immediately after the 8:30 game Friday night, or about 9:30. Tickets on the special, however, are good returning on any regular train, up until the 2:30 train Sunday afternoon.

Coming to The Front

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 13—Two young middleweights, Paul Berlenbach and Jimmy Slattery, seem to be destined now to be the only survivors of the promising bunch of youthful boxers who have come out in the last year.

Both Berlenbach and Slattery have jumped out into prominence almost overnight, and there are reasons to believe that they are due to stay there.

Much has been written lately about Berlenbach, the former amateur wrestler of the New York Athletic Club, and instead of helping him the publicity has retarded his development.

Berlenbach became famous as a deadly puncher before he had the opportunity to get any education in the ring, and now, when he should be under cover, taking on set-ups and learning from the good old experience school, the youngster is being featured in Madison Square Garden and the fans are expecting of him everything that only a veteran could have acquired.

Dempsey did not make his real debut until he was ready to go. He came out into prominence as practically a finished fighter, but Berlenbach commanded such attention from the very start that he was forced to learn the alphabet of his business in front of critical crowds of Garden fans.

It may do the boy a lot of good,

He can hit terrifically and he will knockout any man he hits. He has a most striking disposition under fire, and although the question is being raised about his gameness when he has to take it, he has shown that he is there.

Although it isn't generally known, he was stopped the first time he put on the gloves. Fred Krieb's, a Jersey amateur middleweight, gave him such a beating that the referee stopped the fight in the third round to save him for more punishment.

Berlenbach seems to have so much stuff that he can't fail to deliver. His weight has him at a disadvantage now because he is just between a middleweight and a light heavyweight.

Jack Dempsey perhaps had 100 original and bonafide discoverers, and it is interesting to hear of all the claims being made by those who first saw in Berlenbach the makings of a fighter.

Berlenbach may have had several discoverers, but the man who started him in the boxing game was Hugh McQuillan, one of the leading pitchers of the Giants who lives in the same neighborhood in Astoria.

Berlenbach was telling Hughes one night that he was getting tired of the wrestling racket, and McQuillan suggested that he go to the Knights of Columbus center in Astoria and put on the gloves. He did, and he has had them on ever since.

PRINTED MATERIALS HAVE WIDE APPEAL IN THE SUMMER GOWNS

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)
New York, March 13—
Mary bought a little gown
With little figures on it;
She said: "This is the only way
To get in print, doggone it!"

Printed materials are pushing their way through the plain satins, taffetas, crepes and cottons as Spring approaches. Women have grown to include the printed frock as indispensable in the wardrobe. Surely, a flowered print or Paisley makes a gown that is suitable for many occasions. The Summer traveler finds it the most successful material for knock-out wear, as it is just as suitable for afternoon wear as for morning wear.

This season brings out a great variety of patterned materials, ranging from huge flowered effects to tiny Chinese figures. Hand-dyed print, resembling batik, is also listed among the newest of gown materials. Black and white promises to be the favorite of Spring's colorings, although brilliant backgrounds with white figures or flowers are equally new. White leaves on colored backgrounds are particularly charming.

In the cotton goods, cretonnes and figured crepes proved so successful with the Palm Beach fashionables that they will undoubtedly carry on into the Summer months up North. As simplicity is the keynote of the Spring and Summer silhouette, the printed frock takes away the too severe appearance that many of the plain materials have. Prints are used to make entire dresses, as trimming on plain material and for the fashionable short jackette, which is worn with a plain skirt.

From England comes the topsyturvy frock, which has a reversible blouse and a ruffled skirt, which may be worn upside down, displaying ruffles of contrasting color. Milady may start out in the afternoon in a tea-time frock of brown silk, made with the popular long-waisted separate bodice and a skirt of five rows of brown ruffles lined in gold. There is no necessity of going home for a change of costume for evening, for, presto, she turns her blouse inside out, displaying the gold satin lining, puts her skirt on upside down again, displaying five tiers of gold ruffles, and her change is complete.

But how can she fit the hem of her skirt to a waist line. That's a simple matter. Underneath the bottom ruffle the hem of the skirt foundation is made with a cord, which can be tightened to fit the waist measure. This same cord can be let out to give freedom of hemline when used as the bottom of the skirt.

FASHION HINTS

The reversible cape is also one of the novelties of Spring. As many of the frocks are using little shoulder capes, and these are invariably gorgeously lined, they may be worn inside out over the white Summer frock.

While beaded dresses have lost their charm for day-time wear, evening sees them out in all their glory. Beaded evening gowns and wraps have never been as lovely as they are this season. Brilliant, rhinestones and crystal are Spring's favorite trims.

Gold veils are the latest whim from Paris. Those already on display in New York shops are either very small extending just over the eyes, or quite large, with ends forming streamers at the sides of the hats. Usually the gold veil is worn with the brown or black hat.

June told the senator oil committee today.

They revealed how Fall over-rode objections by President Harding and a protest of "a friend" of the president against use of armed force.

Lejune revealed also that the governor of Wyoming had protested to the president and Senator Walsh immediately, started a search for this protest, which had heretofore been suppressed.

Theodore Roosevelt acting secretary of the navy, was called before the senate oil committee today to explain the use of the navy's armed forces at Teapot Dome and elsewhere in support of the interests of certain oil men.

Marines sent to Teapot Dome chased away oil operators who claimed rights there. They were sent on Roosevelt's orders. He also will be asked about dispatch of battleships to Mexican waters on representations from oil magnates that such a step was necessary to protect American interests.

Before Roosevelt took the stand the committee went into the stock speculations of Attorney General Daugherty and Senate Davis Elkins of West Virginia. Both of these officials have acknowledged stock deals but the full extent of their operations have not been revealed to the satisfaction of the committee. Luis D. Bond, accountant who examined brokers books for the committee, was called as the first witness.

Some of the committee's inquiry into the use of marines and warships, arises from information collected by the American Federation of Labor in conjunction with Mexican labor forces. This data is understood to indicate that American ships were sent to Tampico on a pretext that there were labor disturbances there. This the Mexican labor officials deny and claim to have proof that this was not the real reason American oil interests sought the intervention of this government.

The story of ejection of "squatters" from Teapot Dome by marines is expected to fit into previous testimony indicating that Albert B. Fall then interior secretary, did everything possible to insure possession of Teapot Dome to Harry Sinclair and his Mammoth Oil company.

"The Love Brand," Mystic
Marie Wells, former musical comedy favorite and who is now duplicating her stage success in motion pictures, has an important role in "The Love Brand," latest Universal attraction starring Roy Stewart, which comes to the Mystic theatre Friday. In the picture Miss Wells has a particularly difficult role, that of a Spanish beauty who gives up the man she loves for an American girl. Stuart Paton, who has given to the screen a number of notable successes, directed "The Love Brand."

"The Next Corner," Princess
For nine years Lon Chaney has been adding to the marvelous collection of appliances he carries about in a box that has grown into a trunk.

Today for the first time since he entered pictures, he is playing a role, where is just Lon Chaney and recognizable as such to all his friends. As "Serafin" in Sam Wood's latest production for Paramount, "The Next Corner," he has done nothing to his face except use the ordinary powder which is necessary for good photography and give a lightening touch to the side whiskers. In this way he obtains the slight oddity which distinguishes the race in Northern Spain known as Basques.

Featured with Mr. Chaney in "The Next Corner," which is at the Princess theatre today, are Conway Tearle, Dorothy Mackaill, Ricardo Cortez and Louise Dresser.

A Talmadge Feature

The patrons of the Castle theatre have a real treat in store for them today when Constance Talmadge in A Lady's Name may be seen.

This entertaining comedy has recently been revived by the Selznick Distributing Corporation and is considered one of the best photoplays in which the charming Constance has ever appeared. There is no doubt that it affords her a splendid opportunity to display her versatility, and it is difficult to decide in which scene she is the most captivating.

The supporting cast is excellent, and Harrison Ford as the leading man gives an unusually finished performance. Enory Johnson, Lillian Leighton and Zasu Pitts, also, add greatly to the interest and humor of the production.

How to Strengthen Eyes

In a surprising short time simple camphor, witchhazel, hydragrist, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash, strengthens eyes so you can read or work more. One small bottle shows results. Aluminum eye cup free. Hargrove and Brown, druggists.

Headache

By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

There is no more paralyzing pain than the bilious headache. There are other kinds of headaches, but the bilious headache comes from a stoppage of the bowels which results in the bile from the liver being turned back into the stomach instead of in the direction which it would go if conditions were normal.

The head pain is severe and the nausea is intense and usually is not relieved except by vomiting. After the bowels and stomach have emptied themselves the headache leaves, only to come back when the conditions repeat themselves. The victim of bilious headaches finds them coming with gradually more frequency, unless the cause is removed. By the Chiropractic Health Method, used in this office, the naturally vigorous action of the liver and the bowels is restored, and the trouble disappears.

Suffered Fifteen Years

"I suffered with bilious headaches for fifteen years. They were so bad I could not move. I was fearfully paralyzed with the pain. I am only too glad to take my oath that after I began taking Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments my condition began to improve. Whereas I used to have two or three headaches a week now I am entirely free of them."—Oscar T. Durnil, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 1395H. Sworn to before J. G. Berkey, notary public.

7 PERCENT OF WEALTH IN PUBLIC UTILITIES

There is an Aggregate Investment of More Than $17,000,000,000 in Utility Industry

ELECTRIC LIGHT INCREASE

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 13—Seven percent of the national wealth is represented in the country's public utility information.

There is an aggregate investment of more than $17,000,000,000 in the public utility industry today. Of that amount, $5,500,000,000 is invested in electric power and light; $5,500,000,000 in street railways; $4,000,000,000 in the gas industry and $2,250,000,000 in the telephone business.

In the last ten years the entire population has increased but 15 percent, while the number of electric consumers increased more than 250 percent. The total number of electric light and power customers is about 13,356,000.

Street railways, which normally employ more than 300,000 men and pay wages of more than $430,000,000, carried about 16,000,000,000 passengers in 1923.

The use of gas increased steadily, principally for heating in homes and industry, about 370,000,000 cubic feet of manufactured gas and 763,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas being sold yearly.

Every day more than 45,000,000

Yes—it can be done

The finest of cars can be sold at these prices

THE Studebaker name guarantees to you the utmost in fine-car construction. For 72 years it has stood for quality, for honest workmanship, for square dealing.

It has always stood for style and class. Remember Studebaker carriages—supreme examples of fine coach building.

Consider our facilities—mark what we have at stake. $90,000,000 in assets, $50,000,000 in plants and equipment, $10,000,000 in body plants alone.

Note our multiplying sales—the sensation of Motordom.

It is fair to assume that we can and do build the finest cars and at Studebaker prices.

What is a fine car?

A fine car means the best materials any cost can buy. We use 35 formulas for steels, each known to be best for its purpose. We pay a premium of 15% on some to get the formulas exact.

All Studebaker models are equipped with Timken bearings. There are few cars in America, regardless of price, which equal ours on this point. In our Light-Six, for instance, we put more Timken bearings than are used in any competitive car, within $1,500 of its price.

A fine car means fine engineering. We spend $500,000 yearly on that department, employing 125 able men.

It means careful construction. We have 12,500 up-to-date machines. 1,120 of our operations are exact to 1/1000 of an inch. 360 are exact to one-half of 1/1000 of an inch.

It means infinite pains. For instance, we machine all surfaces of our crankshafts as was done in Liberty Airplane Motors. We are the only makers of cars at our prices who do this.

It means careful inspection. With us it means 30,000 inspections in the manufacture of each Studebaker car.

Luxury and beauty

It means a car to be proud of. Our body finish includes 15 coats of paint and varnish.

Chase Mohair is used to upholster our closed bodies—made from the soft fleece of Angora goats. We offer much extra equipment.

Where savings come

Then how do the Studebakers so far undersell any comparable cars? Because we build so many. The fixed costs are divided by enormous output—150,000 cars per year.

Because we build our own bodies. The saving to you on some types is up to $300 per car.

Because we make our own forgings, saving another profit there. Because our plants are modern and efficient. We have spent $38,000,000 on them in the past five years.

Because we keep our men, make them partners, pay them large bonuses to stay. Changing men is expensive.

Because we conduct this business in every way on the best modern lines.

What buyers save

The Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car sells for $1,045. Under ordinary manufacturing conditions it would need to cost you from $1,200 to $1,400.

On our Special-Six the difference might be $400 to $700.

On our Big-Six type the difference may run into thousands, depending on the number produced. For this car compares only with the highest-priced cars in Europe and America.

You will respect the Studebaker methods when you come to know them. You will admire the cars they create. You will delight in the values.

Remember that last year 145,167 fine-car buyers, after comparisons, chose the Studebaker models. So many people could not be wrong.

Learn why they did so before you buy a car at $1,000 or over. You owe that to yourself.

Go and See Why Studebaker Leads

Last year, 145,167 fine-car buyers paid $201,000,000 for them.

There are 13 models.

Prices begin at $1,025.

Go see the reasons for this trend. See why sales have almost trebled in three years. Why these cars have become the sensation of Motordom.

You owe that to yourself before you buy a fine car.

Some of our Big-Sixes, for instance, have two nickel-plated bumpers, one or two extra disc wheels with cord tires, a courtesy light, a motometer, steel trunk, etc.

This factory, remember, is the ancient home of fine coach work.

A fine car must be enduring. A Studebaker Big-Six, built in 1918, has so far run 475,000 miles. That means 80 years of ordinary service.

WHY IS IT?

Last week a number of our customers who attended the closing out sale of another store learned to their surprise that the prices offered were higher on many things than our regular retail price.

THE ANSWER

We buy in large quantities, take advantage of every discount by paying cash, we are satisfied with a small gross profit and, so far, our large volume of business has made the net profit satisfactory. We are not a cut rate store; we simply buy as cheap as we can and sell the same way.

Coffees are also much higher, we are told by people who claim to know, that on account of the Brazilian government forcing buyers to take a big per cent of rain damaged coffee (the last year's crop was badly damaged by rain) with each purchase of good coffee, and at the same price, that all good grades of coffee will be higher yet. MURDER TRIAL IS READY TO START

STATE AGAINST CECIL CLOUD

Accused of Shooting Luther Sharp,
Also are Summoned

A special venire of 50 prospective
talesmen of jury service Monday was ordered this morning in the circuit court by Judge Will M. Sparks
in preparation for the murder trial,
when Cecil Cloud will go on trial on
the charge of shooting Luther C.
Sharp, former city councilman.

It will be the first murder trial in
it is expected that one of the largest
entrance into the court room.

The case will get under way Mon-
day, unless some unforeseen thing
happens, as both the state and de-
the trial. Sheriff S. L. Hunt is busy
summoning the witnesses, and in all
the state has subpoenaed 50.

It is very probable that the first
day will be given over to the selection of a jury, as much trouble may be experienced because the facts in the case have been generally
broadcast.

Cloud has been held in jail since
will go on trial on a grand jury indictment, charging first degree mur-
der, which upon conviction carries
with it the death sentence, or imprisonment for life.

There never has been any complete
outline of the case published, but it is understood that the state has obtained considerable evidence, along
sented to the jury. Several valuable
witnesses lived in Rushville, it is said,
and two of the main witnesses for the
provide bond as witnesses.

The jury commissioners were ex-
morning, and draw out the 50 names
who will be asked to report for jury

Salem Man Seeking Republican Nomination For Governor Has Many Friends Here

Edgar Bush of Salem, Ind., candi-
date for the Republican nomination
in the interest of his candidacy at
the court house assembly room Fri-
day night at 7:30 o'clock, according
to word received today by some of
his friends, who were asked to make arrangements for the meeting.

Mr. Bush, who was formerly lieutenant-governor of Indiana, has many friends in Rush county, as he has spoken here in past campaigns,
and on one or two occasions has been
one of the speakers on the county
all of the communities of the county.

Mr. Bush will be the second republican candidate for the gubernatorial
nomination to speak in Rush-
ville, Mayor Lew Shank of Indianapolis
having spoken here recently.

It is expected that Ed Toner of Anderson, Ed Jackson of Indianapolis
and Ora Davis of Terre Haute, all
seeking the same nomination, will visit

LAST GYM CLASS TONIGHT

The last session of the business
men's gymnasium class will be held
at the Graham Annex gymnasium this
has been meeting weekly since the
latter part of last year, under the
direction of Albert F. Cotton, director of physical education in the public schools.

There will be prayer meeting service at the First Baptist church tonight with Wilbur Mahin in charge
of the services. Owing to the illness
of the pastor, the Rev. R. W. Sage,
many thought there would be no services tonight at the church.

on Law Violation Charge

Mack Addisco, a merchant of Arlington, appeared this morning in
guilty to a charge of selling cigarettes to a minor, and will face trial
on the charge.

He is charged with an affidavit
with selling the cigarettes to Ray-
land Andrews, a minor. The case has been set for trial March 20 at ten
o'clock.

The Louisville Paper company has
filed suit in Justice Stech's court
against M. J. Mascari, the complaint
being on an account and with the de-
been set for March 17 at ten o'clock.

ing Down North and East Walls

WILL FINISH IT NEXT WEEK

No Definite Agreement Reached Between Lodge and Bank Regarding
The New Structure

Wreckers who are engaged in tear-
ing down the north and east walls of
the Odd Fellow building have been
making rapid progress this week and
today were working on the walls of
the rafters are still in place and several steel beams will have to be removed.

walking around on top of the narrow
walls, many feet above the ground,
apparently not concerned about the
danger in which they constantly
worked, has been the marvel of
hand most of the time to watch the
destruction of the old walls.

It is reported that no definite
agreement has been reached between
the Rush county National bank,
which had a perpetual lease on the
the terms of a contract, to erect the
top story of the building.

The failure of the bank and lodge
to come to terms regarding the size
and design of a proposed new building, may delay the beginning of construction work, it is now believed, because the rapidity with which the
wreckers have been working means
that the site will be cleared some
time next week; so that the new
building could be started.

the new building would be only two
stories, with the lodge occupying the
second floor, but it is now stated on
good authority that there is a disposition in some quarters to add another
story and use the second floor for
another purpose, with the lodge on
the top floor.

What will come of this agitation,
no one is prepared to say, but it is
known that a number interested in
the project think that the building
should be three stories high.

Urged to View Herron Exhibit of Artists and Craftsmen

within a radius of fifty miles of In-
John Herron Art Institute, corner of Sixteenth and Pennsylvania streets,
Indianapolis, and see the exhibition
work of artists and craftsmen of Indiana, which is now on view, according to word received here today.

Saturday has been set aside for
invitation is being extended through
the press. A lecture on the work exhibited will be given at 2:30 o'clock.

The exhibit includes all the work
that has been done within the past
and all of the divisions of arts and
crafts.

Washington, March 13—Saturday
is the last day for filing your income tax return.

By that day you must make your return on the income received in 1923 and pay at least one quarter
of the taxes.

If you neglect to do this, you are
in danger of a fine of $1,000 plus
a penalty of 25 per cent of the amount
of your income tax, unless you can show something in the reason for failing to get in the return on time.

If you will fully refuse to make a
return the penalty is $10,000 fine, a
year in prison and a 25 per cent
boost in your tax.

Every single person with a net in-
come of $1,000 or more and every
married person with $2,000 or more
must file a return if his personal exemptions relieve him from paying
taxes.

Taxpayers will not be entitled to
the 25 percent rebate on 1923 taxes
which has been talked about in congress.

A provision in such a rebate is
house but it cannot get through the senate in time. The separate resolution providing for this reduction
has struck a snag and cannot pass
by Saturday.

However, taxpayers who, relying
on promises by congressional leaders that the 25 per cent rebate would
be granted, take it off their taxes,
will not be penalized by the treasury. They will simply be notified
they are not entitled to it, treasury
officials said.

KENYON BEING URGED TO ACCEPT POSITION

Some of His Friends Advise Him Not

TO GIVE HIS ANSWER TODAY

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Washington, March 3—Judge William S. Kenyon, former senator from Iowa, today will tell President Cool-
idge whether he will accept appointment as Secretary of the Navy Den-
by's successor.

Kenyon, judge of the eighth United States circuit, has been warmly
urged by Mr. Coolidge to accept but
some of his friends have advised him
not to.

His argument was that while
Mr. Coolidge has indicated a great compliment to Kenyon's spotless reputation by picking him as the man
he desired to head the navy in the
situation growing out of the oil lease
investigation. Kenyon has everything
to lose and nothing to gain.

Kenyon would be giving up a life
position to take another which is certain only until March 4, 1925. The
navy is not in Kenyon's line of work
and when he was appointed to the
bench by the late President Harding
he indicated a desire to get out of
suggested recently as a successor to Daugherty as attorney general.

vived by three sisters, Ellen, Caro-

Daugherty Inquiry Committee In-
vestigation Reported Meeting at
The White House

sumes Story Today

(By United Press)

Washington, March 13—A report-
ed White House conference attend-
ed by Attorney General Daugherty,
E. L. Doheny, Harry Sinclair and
the late president Harding was being investigated today by the senate
committee, investigating the department of justice.

According to the story told the
committee, Daugherty, Sinclair and Doheny spent the night preceding
Jesse Smith's death at the White House.

Daugherty, it was recalled today,
was at the White House eating
friend Smith's suicide, was broken to
him.

Pending the clearing up of this
report, the committee prepared to-
day to continue questions of Mrs.
Roxie Stinson, Smith's divorced
wife who yesterday began her testimony.

Senator Wheeler said Mrs. Stin-
son had "not begun to tell her full
story." She desires so far as possible to shield Smith's name.

Closely guarded, at her own request, the widow of Jesse Smith, who
committed suicide in Daugherty's
apartment last Decoration day, was
kept in seclusion until time for her
to resume her sensational story of
intrigue, stock deals and self-sacrifice.

The soft-spoken woman who told
the committee with many tears late
yesterday at the start of the open
hearings of the friendship and partnership of Jesse Smith and the attorney general, had much more to reveal, according to Senator B. K.
Wheeler, Montana, chief prosecutor.

She was to take the stand again at 2 p. m. and it was doubtful, according to Wheeler, if any other witness-
es would be heard today.

The story as told thus far by Mrs.
Smith who was divorced from Smith
but remained an intimate friend to
the time of his suicide, was a sketchy
one. She touched lightly upon mysterious "deals" of which she had
apparently intimate knowledge, especially regarding the profits, in oil
and automobile stocks, in which she
shared.

She alleged, under prompting by Senator Wheeler:

That Jesse Smith "adored" Harry
Daugherty and gave "his life" for the
attorney general.

That Smith, coming to Washington
after the election of President Harding became involved in a mass of intrigue from which in the end he found such self destruction the only
escape.

ITALIAN CONSUL SPEAKS TO CLUB

Dr. V. Lapenta Addresses Kiwanians
on Achievements of Fascisti Re-

Honor

Explaining the doctrine of the
ponent, Premier Mussolini of Italy,
and showing that the Italian leader
has the same ideals as true American
citizens, Dr. V. Lapenta, Italian
consul, of Indianapolis, delivered a fiery address before the Kiwanis
club today noon.

Dr. Lapenta came here at the invitation of John H. Kiplinger, who
in introducing the Italian consul, re-
called how he had seen the beginning
of the new movement to combat
communism in Milan in the fall of 1920 and had witnessed the celebration at the same place last fall.

Dr. Lapenta explained the Corfu
incident, when Mussolini seized the
island to compel the Greek government to salute the Italian flag after
five Italian officers, members of a
league of nations boundary commission, had been brutally murdered in Greece by Greek officers in the em-
ploye of a Greek military clique.

The Italian government representative asserted that Mussolini held
on that occasion that the League of
nations had no right to settle affairs
on honor between nations.

"He shaved down the league of
longed," declared Dr. Lapenta. "Mussolini said that national honor is
that aggregation of pride that comes
down from the beginning of the nation through the achievements of
the fathers and is not something that
have no such traditions."

Dr. Lapenta said that Italy was willing to be judged by an assemblage
of its peers, but that she would not
consent to have delegates from tribes
some of which have no nationality
whatever, and which are represented
in the league of nations as British
subjects, to pass on an affair of
national honor.

Dr. Lapenta outlined how communism tried to take advantage of the
unsettled conditions after the war
to seize control of government. He
explained methods used by their
leaders in causing strikes and hoping to seize the mantle of authority
when the government was disrupted.

"They hoped to put in effect their
years of government experience
learned from the rule of the now deceased Lenin," said the Italian
consul in a sarcastic vein, and when
he mentioned the name of the late Russian premier, he did so with an
expressive chuckle.

The government hesitated to use

Inspectors From State Entomologist Office to Discuss Various Phases of The Work

Later in Season Inspectors Inspect Colonies for Elimination of Diseases, Especially Foulbrood

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 13—Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist, today announced a series of county conventions for beekeepers, at which inspectors from his office will discuss with persons engaged in the industry, various phases of the work and organize for the coming season's campaign toward the elimination of bee diseases. Conventions, already have been held this year at Aurora, Huntington, Albany, Evansville, Mt. Vernon, Booneville and Princeton. Future dates follow.

Oakland City March 18
Princeton March 19
Greenfield March 21

The state conservation department each spring conducts conventions in various parts of the state to instruct beekeepers in order that honey production be increased. Hundreds of beekeepers in the locality of the conventions attend, and tours are made during which demonstrations on practical beekeeping are given by state experts.

Later in the season inspectors tour the state, visit yards and inspect colonies for the elimination of diseases, particularly foulbrood. Since apian inspection work in Indiana was legislated to the entomologists' office in 1909, Indiana has made remarkable strides in honey production, now producing annually in excess of 6,000,000 pounds at a market value of $2,000,000.

SHOULD STUDY CROP SUCCESS CAREFULLY

According to Figures, Farmer Produces About Thirty Crops During His Life Time

URGES USE OF GOOD SEED

Lafayette, Ind., Mar. 13—The average farmer in Indiana retires at the age of 55. If the year's harvest is considered as a crop, then the average Hoosier farmer produces about thirty crops during his lifetime.

If it is true that each crop represents one-thirtieth of his life-work, he surely should bend every effort toward preventing a crop failure. With this viewpoint of the importance in time and money of each year's crop, every factor that leads toward crop success should be carefully considered.

There is one fundamental of crop success that is frequently neglected, according to A. A. Hansen of the Purdue university department of agricultural extension, and that is the use of good seed.

While it is perfectly obvious that without good seed a good crop is impossible, nevertheless many farmers either purchase seed blindly or use home grown seed that has not been recleaned.

Seed should never be purchased without first studying the data on the seed-law tag and home grown seed should never be used unless it is cleaned with a good fanning mill.

GIVES ATTENTION TO MARKETING OF HOGS

REALIZE BETTER PRICES

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 13—Wallace officials of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation are concentrating efforts on the drive for members in the wheat pool for cooperative marketing of wheat, attention is also being given to the more thorough use of facilities offered by the cooperative associations for the marketing of hogs, Perry H. Crane, general secretary of the federation, said today.

Work is progressing satisfactorily in the diverting of farmers' livestock from regular commission channels to the cooperative agencies, Crane said.

"As a rule, the farmers have realized much better prices through our agents," Crane said.

The federation now maintains sales staffs in the East, Buffalo, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Evansville and Indianapolis markets, for the disposition of livestock, he said. These are the principal markets where Indiana hogs are sold, Crane explained.

Crane estimated that about 30 percent of the receipts of the yards are handled by producers' commission association. During the last year the cooperative association handled $15,750,000 worth of hogs from Iowa he said.

JAPANESE BEETLE IS TO BE FEARED

State Entomologist Issues Warning That Pest May Cause Much Trouble in The State

ATTACKS GRASS AND SHRUBS

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 13—Owners of spacious lawns, golf courses and expansive landscapes may well be worried along with farmers and orchardists if the Japanese beetle comes to Indiana, for these places as well as small garden truck, various grain crops and fruits are potential food for the beetles, it is pointed out by Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist.

Backed by the conservation department of which his office is a division, Wallace is making a determined fight to have federal authorities appropriate sufficient funds for battling the beetle now confined to a zone in the vicinity of Philadelphia. Because there now is no known remedy for eradicating these beetles, Wallace believes every effort should be made to keep this latest menace in a restricted zone until science determines a method of holding it under control.

If this pest ever gets to Indiana the damage to crops and fruits will be enormous, conservation officials say. This Japanese destroyer possesses an appetite for about every form of vegetable, grain, fruit and tree growth. It also devours flowers, grasses, shrubs, etc. Its reproduction is so prolific, and its appetite so voracious, that scientists do not hesitate to call it the "yellow peril" of the insect world.

WEBB MINSTREL TROOP IS INVITED TO APPEAR IN RIPLEY TOWNSHIP

Monday night the members of the Farmer's organization and the Parent-Teachers of Rushville township were very royally entertained by the Webb Minstrel troupe of the Webb community. The audience was in an uproar from the minute the curtains were drawn until the grand finale, "Good Night Ladies", with variations.

The minstrel was in the form of a school, with Oliver Mock, the very handsome and dress-suited professor. To the unusual ability of the cast was added a variety of outlandish costumes and exaggerated dialects. They all put their songs, jokes, capers and jigs across with more punch than had they been professionals. It was such a success that they have been asked to furnish the entertainment for the Ripley township Farm Bureau meeting this month.

A few of their most enjoyable specialties were "Oh, Sister Ain't that Hot," by Johnson and chorus; "Last Night on the Back Porch," by "Mandy" and "Cleo" and chorus; "Nearer and Dearer to Me," by "Nannie O'Rayre" and chorus; Jiggs by Elyne Lacey and Mr. Manley; and a sermon on "De Miracles" by Parson Sidebottom. A glance at the following cast should convince anyone of the range and variety of ability of the troupe.

Ik Mock, Professor of negroes; Hub Woods, Johnson; Mary Helen Jones, Mandy; Mr. Stumpt, Joshua; Tom Fair, Sampson; Mr. Klipsch, Parson Sidebottom; Mr. Horton, Rastus Brown; Mr. Patterson, Al Jolson Lawrence Davison, Mose Daniels; Thelma O'Reilly, Nannie O'Rayre; Mrs. Bert Osborne, Elyne Lacey; Edith Lower, Miss Patsy Pancake; Lowell Osborne, Cornie Kay; Bert Davison, Mr. Plunket; Mrs. O. ITALIAN CONSUL SPEAKS TO CLUB

continued, fearing a bloody war, and finally Mussolini, a newspaper editor, led the Fascists in open revolt against the reds, never hesitating to use violence when necessary, but depending upon the spoken and printed word.

Fascism is based on old principles restated, Dr. Lapenta declared, and its first conception is that the state represents no section or group of individuals, but is opposed to the fakery of public ownership. It wants to leave those things to individual initiative, he stated.

Dr. Lapenta presented the paradox in the theory that the state is for yet apposed to all individuals in that it protects their rights by seeing that they are not violated by individuals.

The second conception of Fascism, he continued, is that every individual, while free, owes something to the state, yet the state exists for the good of the individuals and the individuals not for the good of the state.

This is contrary to the socialistic view, he pointed out, which, having done away with God, has to set up something in his place and creates the super-state that controls the individual.

Dr. Lapenta declared Fascism is the regenerative factor in Italy and taken public utilities, which were lost and is ruining other states. It has taken public utilities, which were losing millions under government control, and placed them in charge of corporations, which are making profits and paying the government taxes.

Government expenses have been reduced, the speaker said, but the greatest accomplishment of the Mussolini regime has been the number of treaties of friendship and commerce with other governments. He told how the premier had helped Austria recover and solved the Fiume question thus removing a constant war menace in the Balkans.

Dr. J. Morgan was introduced as a new member of the club and Ed Shawl of Chicago and Judge Will M. Sparks and Roy E. Harrold were guests.

THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 1924

Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?—Isaiah 58: 7.

Why This Solicitude?

A writer in an advertising publication says that a large mail order house is trying to find out why farm products which net the man who raises them little or no profit, are sold to the ultimate consumer at prices which are prohibitive.

He goes on to say that this investigation may disclose the fact that the retail grocer, who in the small town insists that he is the true friend of the farmer and in the city poses as the friend of the consumer, may be shown up in rather unfavorable light. But the (naming the mail order house) will not lose any sleep if that happens, he continues. The retailer is no friend of theirs.

But did it ever occur to the mail order house, whose defender is bluntly honest about the mail order house attitude towards the retailer, that if it were not for the retailer, there would likely not be any prosperous communities from which the mail order houses could take their pound of flesh?

People gather together in towns and small cities such as ours, build what we call homes and dwell together in peace and harmony. Each man has his part in the community life. Some are retailers, some are professional men, some till the soil and others work at trades.

Certainly people would not establish homes, build streets and school houses and churches and the other adjuncts of community life, if there were not some retailers to supply their daily wants.

They could not depend on mail order houses in far distant cities that pose as friends of the people, yet exact a toll that yields immense profits for their stockholders.

Retailers are as necessary in community life as any other body of citizens and they know that the mail order houses, which beguile their customers with fine descriptions and misleading statements regarding articles, are no friends of theirs; neither are they friends of the people to whom they sell their goods.

The retailer is accountable to the people who trade with him. He is at the same stand every day and if his customers feel that they have not had fair treatment as to price or quality,

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

they know where to make complaint. He is interested in everything that is for the best interests of the community. He pays taxes and helps support the churches, schools public improvements and every other worthwhile enterprise.

The mail order house, which has taken such a concern in the welfare of the farmer, has no interest in this community or any other, aside from how much revenue it will produce. The mail order house does not pay a cent towards educating our children, building our streets or public buildings; in fact, contributes nothing to the community.

They take money from the community and add nothing in return. Their solicitude for the farmer is almost pathetic. It must be that business is not so good—else why this sudden interest in the source of big profits.

Preserving Charm

To be a grandmother and yet preserve the lovely skin and charm of youth is the duty of every woman, according to a famous actress, who is not a grandmother, but who has tried to look like a girl of twenty, though she is three times that age.

"It is an antiquated idea that the ravages of advancing years should play havoc with a woman's beauty," she says. And again: "No woman of sixty or more advanced years need be without that beauty and 'charm' of youth if she will but use the aids of beauty preservation at her disposal."

Methods of preserving the bloom of youth are not enumerated, but the actress probably counted this as wasted words because no home is complete without that which brings the red glow to the cheek and beautiful lustre to the hair.

And the subject of hair is not even mentioned. Whether it is essential that grandmother have her gray locks bobbed in order to essay the roll of grand daughter is probably regarded as trivial, because the modern woman who never lets any grass grow under her feet, likewise never permits any hair to grow on her head.

There may come a day, of course when every flapper will know her own grandmother. Those who control the destinies of the weaker sex aver that it will be worn long again next winter, and when that day comes, the charm of youth may still be retained, even though the hair may be worn in a knot on the top of the head.

Methods of preserving beauty may have their part in the scheme of holding on to youth, but they are unavailing unless the vitality is preserved by clean living and good thoughts.

Hunt's Washington Letter

By HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer

Washington, March 13.—The "Social Bloc" is busy again. This time it is not after an "outsider", whom it can be dazzled with a view of the riches that can be enjoyed in Washington by one who is "in right", but one whom it feels should, because of his very wealth and influence, naturally fall within a charmed circle. Said individual being no less a person than James Couzens of Michigan, who probably possesses more millions than any other man in the United States Senate.

Couzens, however, is understood to recognize the net that is being spread to tame, through social entanglements, some of his "irregular" views on the subjects of taxation, public ownership and similar issues close to the hearts of those who are socially mighty here.

Being a human individual and a gentleman, Couzens at first accepted graciously, though by no means enthusiastically, the invitations to dinners, receptions and affairs that recently began pouring in on him. But so heavy has become the social barrage, particularly since his set-to with Secretary Mellon over the administration tax reduction program, that Senator Jim is understood to be about ready to put on the brakes. He recognizes the game that is being played and is ready to pull out.

Not that he fears the bloc can snare him. He just doesn't want to raise their hopes unjustifiably. Nor waste the time!

Clinton W. Gilbert, who wrote "The Mirrors of Washington," has been peeping in all the looking glasses about the capital recently to see if he could catch a glimpse of an ideal candidate for president in 1924.

Apparently the candidates in the field are an uncouth bunch, who don't use mirrors in making up for the public, or else they are afraid to face themselves and Gilbert in the glass.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Schatz of West Third street fell from a chair yesterday morning and suffered a dislocated arm.

The Spritz sisters of Cincinnati, who will give a concert in the Grand theatre Monday evening, have gained the permission of their manager, E. C. Dunn, to reduce their prices so that they will be within the reach of everyone. The girls have arranged for a reception to be held on the stage after the concert for the purpose of meeting their old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvan Eakins of Union township and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Peudner saw "The Lion and The Mouse" at Connersville last night.

The Ladies' Musical will render a program at their regular meeting Monday afternoon. The following ladies will participate: Bessie Lee, Mrs. Aldridge, Miss Norris, Miss Buell, Mrs. Wooden, Anna Poundstone, Miss Kitchin, Mrs. M. R. McDaniel, Miss Madden, Mrs. L. B. Harris, Mrs. Ralph Payne, Miss Ruby Amos, Lewis Bell.

Miss Ruth Aldridge arranged a pleasant surprise on her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Aldridge, at their home in Perkins street, Friday evening, honoring their wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Allie Morrison and daughter, Marjorie, of Homer, were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. I. Wooden and family in North Morgan street today.

Mrs. T. M. Greenlee has returned to New Castle after a short visit with her mother, Mrs. O. C. Hackleman in North Harrison street.

Ben Norris of Carthage was here today.

Elgar Higgs is employed as solicitor for S. E. Secoy, the piano tuner.

Miss Francis Capp, who has been seriously ill at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Capp in North Main street, is slightly improved today.

Milton Churchill has sold his farm of 80 acres in Posey township to Lithe G. Bartlett of Erie county, New York.

Mrs. R. P. Henley and son Byron of Carthage were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Hackleman in North Morgan street today.

for he sums up the result of his quest thus tersely:

Although he has served Oklahoma in the Senate ever since she gained statehood, Owen announces he will not fight for re-election, this year. He expects to settle down in Muskogee after March 4, next, tend a home garden and devote his time to urging adoption of a simplified method of amending the constitution. And he defies anyone to prove him "un-American" because he thinks it should be amended.

The most dangerous fighter in the United States Senate, from a psycho-analytical standpoint, is Wheeler of Montana, the young member who forced through the resolution for an investigation of Atty. Gen. Daugherty.

When Wheeler gets into a scrap—and he's already headed into a number of battles, although this is his first time in Congress—he doesn't get peevish. He doesn't get dramatic. He doesn't pound his desk and wave his arms and rant.

If the psychologist is right in saying "Look out for the man who smiles when he fights," his opponents had better look out for Wheeler.

Rushville, Ind., 1924
I wish to say a few words about the fad of putting flowers on the easels of our loved ones. I think it very proper for home folks to do so, but I am opposed to those not of our own family asking others to contribute to what is strictly a family affair and for myself I would rather they would give to some one in need than they would spend for flowers.

In a few hours their beauty is all gone and the donors have contributed nothing to the happiness of the departed or cheered the mourners. It would certainly be much nicer to know they had contributed to the comfort of some one and it would be so easy to give a pair of gloves or over shoes, a sweater to some boy or girl to wear to school.

HITTIN' 'EM —AND— MISSIN' 'EM

Connersville has chartered a special train over the C. I. & W. railroad for the state tournament, leaving Connersville Friday morning at 10:00 going directly to the 38th street station, which is within two blocks of the fair grounds. One thousand people are expected on the train, and according to the newspaper, if Connersville wins their Friday afternoon game, the excursion will be repeated Saturday morning. The fare of $1.50 round trip is exceptionally low, and the business men of that city got behind the movement.

LET'S PUT RUSHVILLE THERE NEXT YEAR. THE TIME TO START IS RIGHT NOW.

Osborne and Davison, forward and center of Webb, both fine fellows, good players and practically Rushville boys, will come to Rushville to school next year, if given any kind of necessary give 'em a job that's the chance to start the ball to rolling for next year. Business men and merchants, basketball fans and school officials should make these boys feel at home, talk to them, and of encouragement. Here is your spirit that wins games.

Another candidate looms up from the Raleigh school. Newkirk, the floor guard, also a pivot man, and another fine chap, will come here if given the proper encouragement, so we are informed. Talk won't bring these fellows here alone. It will take honest to goodness friendliness and the right kind of spirit, and it might also take a job, as Hittin' 'em said before.

To conduct the spirit of basketball properly, it is necessary to have a booster organization, and the cities that have successful teams are the ones that have such organizations. Let's start right next fall, and be organized for every game. Down at Shelbyville every citizen is a booster club member. They must know the yell, or they can't belong.

In the meantime don't overlook the fact that it will take a new gym to get any place next year. It can't be built next fall and ready for the first game. A good schedule has been prepared for next year, and will be announced soon. The two things work together. The better the gym, the better the future schedules.

The loss of as much as a pound of excess fat a day with no harmful results is the record made by many patients of Dr. R. Newman, a licensed practicing physician of 286 Fifth Avenue, New York, who announces that he has perfected a treatment which has quickly rid fat people of excess weight. What is more remarkable is the Doctor's statement that he has successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction without change of diet or unnecessary exercise. It is also said that fat people who suffer from chronic rheumatism, gout, asthma and high blood pressure obtain great relief from the reduction of their superfluous flesh. Realizing that this sounds almost too good to be true, the Doctor has offered to send without charge to anyone who will write him, a free trial treatment to prove his claims, as well as his "Pay-when-reduced" plan. If you want to rid yourself of superfluous fat, write him today, addressing Dr. R. Newman, 286 Fifth Avenue New York City. Dept. R.

They are named in order of their strength at the time they were picked. The first seven presumably the strongest, will appear at the state tournament, while the last three, the weakest, were eliminated in the regionals. Maybe a Big Ten is worth while after all. —Marion Chronicle

Shelbyville high school was not represented at the meeting of high school principals of the sixth congressional district which was held Saturday afternoon at Richmond, Ind., for the purpose of effecting a district organization to sponsor district basketball tournaments each year. It is said that Tim Campbell, coach of the local team, does not favor the plan and that Shelbyville will probably steer clear of the association.

Morton Wins After Fight

"Dear Hoosier—Here are the scores of all the games in the state tournament. You will notice, no doubt that I have Morton (Richmond) winning the final by a score of 47 to 43 over Anderson. Here they go:

- Morton (Richmond) 45; South Side (Fl. Wayne) 26
- Michigan City 25; Wiley (Terre Haute) 17

SPECIAL TRAIN TO TOURNAMENT

C. I. & W. Will Operate Train Friday, Going Direct to Fair Grounds

A special train over the C. I. & W. railroad will be run Friday to Indianapolis, and a special low rate fare will be in effect for the service, according to an announcement today.

The train is sponsored by the Connersville business men, who are behind the movement. The train will stop at Rushville for passengers, arriving here at 10:55 in the morning. The train will be transferred to the Monon line in Indianapolis, and taken directly to the 38th street station, which is within a block or two of the fair grounds, where the basketball tournament will be in progress. The train will leave immediately after the 8:30 game Friday night, or about 9:30. Tickets on the special, however, are good returning on any regular train, up until the 2:30 train Sunday afternoon.

Coming to The Front

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 13—Two young middleweights, Paul Berlenbach and Jimmy Slattery, seem to be destined now to be the only survivors of the promising bunch of youthful boxers who have come out in the last year.

Both Berlenbach and Slattery have jumped out into prominence almost overnight, and there are reasons to believe that they are due to stay there.

Much has been written lately about Berlenbach, the former amateur wrestler of the New York Athletic Club, and instead of helping him the publicity has retarded his development.

Berlenbach became famous as a deadly puncher before he had the opportunity to get any education in the ring, and now, when he should be under cover, taking on set-ups and learning from the good old experience school, the youngster is being featured in Madison Square Garden and the fans are expecting of him everything that only a veteran could have acquired.

Dempsey did not make his real debut until he was ready to go. He came out into prominence as practically a finished fighter, but Berlenbach commanded such attention from the very start that he was forced to learn the alphabet of his business in front of critical crowds of Garden fans.

It may do the boy a lot of good,

He can hit terrifically and he will knockout any man he hits. He has a most striking disposition under fire, and although the question is being raised about his gameness when he has to take it, he has shown that he is there.

Although it isn't generally known, he was stopped the first time he put on the gloves. Fred Krieb's, a Jersey amateur middleweight, gave him such a beating that the referee stopped the fight in the third round to save him for more punishment.

Berlenbach seems to have so much stuff that he can't fail to deliver. His weight has him at a disadvantage now because he is just between a middleweight and a light heavyweight.

Jack Dempsey perhaps had 100 original and bonafide discoverers, and it is interesting to hear of all the claims being made by those who first saw in Berlenbach the makings of a fighter.

Berlenbach may have had several discoverers, but the man who started him in the boxing game was Hugh McQuillan, one of the leading pitchers of the Giants who lives in the same neighborhood in Astoria.

Berlenbach was telling Hughes one night that he was getting tired of the wrestling racket, and McQuillan suggested that he go to the Knights of Columbus center in Astoria and put on the gloves. He did, and he has had them on ever since.

PRINTED MATERIALS HAVE WIDE APPEAL IN THE SUMMER GOWNS

By HEDDA ROYT
(Written for United Press)

New York, March 13—Mary bought a little gown With little figures on it; She said: "This is the only way To get in print, doggone it!"

Printed materials are pushing their way through the plain satins, taffetas, crepes and cottons as Spring approaches. Women have grown to include the printed frock as indispensable in the wardrobe. Surely, a flowered print or Paisley makes a gown that is suitable for many occasions. The Summer traveler finds it the most successful material for knock-out wear, as it is just as suitable for afternoon wear as for morning wear.

This season brings out a great variety of patterned materials, ranging from huge flowered effects to tiny Chinese figures. Hand-dyed print, resembling batik, is also listed among the newest of gown materials. Black and white promises to be the favorite of Spring's colorings, although brilliant backgrounds with white figures or flowers are equally new. White leaves on colored backgrounds are particularly charming.

In the cotton goods, cretonnes and figured crepes proved so successful with the Palm Beach fashionables that they will undoubtedly carry over into the Summer months up North. As simplicity is the keynote of the Spring and Summer silhouette, the printed frock takes away the too severe appearance that many of the plain materials have. Prints are used to make entire dresses, as trimming on plain material and for the fashionable short jackette, which is worn with a plain skirt.

From England comes the topsy-turvy frock, which has a reversible blouse and a ruffled skirt, which may be worn upside down, displaying ruffles of contrasting color. Milady may start out in the afternoon in a ten-time forek of brown silk, made with the popular long-waisted separate bodice and a skirt of five rows of brown ruffles lined in gold. There is no necessity of going home for a change of costume for evening, for, presto, she turns her blouse inside out, displaying the gold satin lining, puts her skirt on upside down again, displaying five tiers of gold ruffles, and her change is complete.

But how can she fit the hem of her skirt to a waist line. That's a simple matter. Underneath the bottom ruffle the hem of the skirt foundation is made with a cord, which can be tightened to fit the waist measure. This same cord can be let out to give freedom of hemline when used as the bottom of the skirt.

The reversible cape is also one of the novelties of Spring. As many of the frocks are using little shoulder capes, and these as invariably gorgeously lined, they may be worn inside out over the white Summer frock.

While beaded dresses have lost their charm for day-time wear, evening sees them out in all their glory. Beaded evening gowns and wraps have never been as lovely as they are this season. Brilliants, rhinestones and crystal are Spring's favorite trims.

Gold veils are the latest whim from Paris. Those already on display in New York shops are either very small extending just over the eyes, or quite large, with ends forming streamers at the sides of the hats. Usually the gold veil is worn with the brown or black hat.

June told, the senator oil committee today.

They revealed how Fall over-rode objections by President Harding and a protest of "a friend" of the president against use of armed force.

Lejune revealed also that the governor of Wyoming had protested to the president and Senator Walsh immediately, started a search for this project, which had heretofore been suppressed.

Theodore Roosevelt acting secretary of the navy, was called before the senate oil committee today to explain the use of the navy's armed forces at Teapot Dome and elsewhere in support of the interests of certain oil men.

Marines sent to Teapot Dome chased away oil operators who claimed rights there. They were sent on Roosevelt's orders. He also will be asked about dispatch of battleships to Mexican waters on representations from oil magnates that such a step was necessary to protect American interests.

Before Roosevelt took the stand the committee went into the stock speculations of Attorney General Daugherty and Senate Davis Elkins of West Virginia. Both of these officials have acknowledged stock deals but the full extent of their operations have not been revealed to the satisfaction of the committee.

Luis D. Bond, accountant who examined brokers books for the committee, was called as the first witness.

Some of the committee's inquiry into the use of marines and warships, arises from information collected by the American Federation of Labor in conjunction with Mexican labor forces. This data is understood to indicate that American ships were sent to Tampico on a pretext that there were labor disturbances there. This the Mexican labor officials deny and claim to have proof that this was not the real reason American oil interests sought the intervention of this government.

The story of ejection of "squatters" from Teapot Dome by marines is expected to fit into previous testimony indicating that Albert B. Fall then interior secretary, did everything possible to insure possession of Teapot Dome to Harry Sinclair and his Mammoth Oil company.

Headache

By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

There is no more paralyzing pain than the bilious headache. There are other kinds of headaches, but the bilious headache comes from a stoppage of the bowels which results in the bile from the liver being turned back into the stomach instead of in the direction which it would go if conditions were normal.

The head pain is severe and the nausea is intense and usually is not relieved except by vomiting. After the bowels and stomach have emptied themselves the headache leaves, only to come back when the conditions repeat themselves. The victim of bilious headaches finds them coming with gradually more frequency, unless the cause is removed. By the Chiropractic Health Method, used in this office, the naturally vigorous action of the liver and the bowels is restored, and the trouble disappears.

Uncle Ben Says:

"There are many things that travel together, such as man and wife, ham and eggs, safe and sane, speed and disaster, hoboes and cooties."

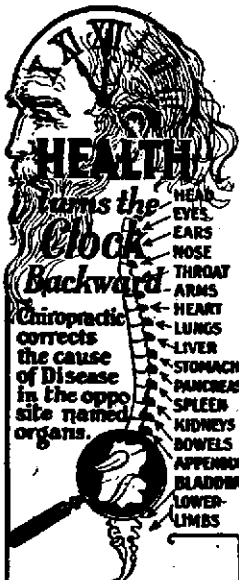

Suffered Fifteen Years

"I suffered with bilious headaches for fifteen years. They were so bad I could not move. I was fearfully paralyzed with the pain. I am only too glad to take my oath that after I began taking Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments my condition began to improve. Whereas I used to have two or three headaches a week now I am entirely free of them."—Oscar T. Durnil, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 1395H. Sworn to before J. G. Berkey, notary public.

7 PERCENT OF WEALTH IN PUBLIC UTILITIES

There is an Aggregate Investment of More Than $17,000,000,000 in Utility Industry

ELECTRIC LIGHT INCREASE

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 13.—Seven percent of the national wealth is represented in the country's public utility information.

There is an aggregate investment of more than $17,000,000,000 in the public utility industry today. Of that amount, $5,500,000,000 is invested in electric power and light; $5,500,000,000 in street railways; $4,000,000,000 in the gas industry and $2,250,000,000 in the telephone business.

In the last ten years the entire population has increased but 15 percent, while the number of electric consumers increased more than 250 percent. The total number of electric light and power customers is about 13,356,000.

Street railways, which normally employ more than 300,000 men and pay wages of more than $430,000,000, carried about 16,000,000,000 passengers in 1923.

The use of gas increased steadily, principally for heating in homes and industry, about 370,000,000 cubic feet of manufactured gas and 763,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas being sold yearly.

Yes—it can be done

The finest of cars can be sold at these prices

THE Studebaker name guarantees to you the utmost in fine-car construction. For 72 years it has stood for quality, for honest workmanship, for square dealing.

It has always stood for style and class. Remember Studebaker carriages—supreme examples of fine coach building.

Consider our facilities—mark what we have at stake. $90,000,000 in assets, $50,000,000 in plants and equipment, $10,000,000 in body plants alone.

Note our multiplying sales—the sensation of Motordom.

It is fair to assume that we can and do build the finest cars and at Studebaker prices.

What is a fine car?

A fine car means the best materials any cost can buy. We use 35 formulas for steels, each known to be best for its purpose. We pay a premium of 15% on some to get the formulas exact.

All Studebaker models are equipped with Timken bearings. There are few cars in America, regardless of price, which equal ours on this point. In our Light-Six, for instance, we put more Timken bearings than are used in any competitive car, within $1,500 of its price.

A fine car means fine engineering. We spend $500,000 yearly on that department, employing 125 able men.

It means careful construction. We have 12,500 up-to-date machines. 1,120 of our operations are exact to 1/1000 of an inch. 360 are exact to one-half of 1/1000 of an inch.

It means infinite pains. For instance, we machine all surfaces of our crankshafts as was done in Liberty Airplane Motors. We are the only makers of cars at our prices who do this.

It means careful inspection. With us it means 30,000 inspections in the manufacture of each Studebaker car.

Luxury and beauty

It means a car to be proud of. Our body finish includes 15 coats of paint and varnish.

Chase Mohair is used to upholster our closed bodies—made from the soft fleece of Angora goats.

We offer much extra equipment.

Where savings come

Then how do the Studebakers so far undersell any comparable cars? Because we build so many. The fixed costs are divided by enormous output—150,000 cars per year.

Because we build our own bodies. The saving to you on some types is up to $300 per car.

Because we make our own forgings, saving another profit there.

Because our plants are modern and efficient. We have spent $38,000,000 on them in the past five years.

Because we keep our men, make them partners, pay them large bonuses to stay. Changing men is expensive.

Because we conduct this business in every way on the best modern lines.

What buyers save

The Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car sells for $1,045. Under ordinary manufacturing conditions it would need to cost you from $1,200 to $1,400.

On our Special-Six the difference might be $400 to $700.

On our Big-Six type the difference may run into thousands, depending on the number produced. For this car compares only with the highest-priced cars in Europe and America.

You will respect the Studebaker methods when you come to know them. You will admire the cars they create. You will delight in the values.

Remember that last year 145,167 fine-car buyers, after comparisons, chose the Studebaker models. So many people could not be wrong.

Learn why they did so before you buy a car at $1,000 or over. You owe that to yourself.

Go and See Why Studebaker Leads

Studebaker is now the world's largest builder of quality automobiles.

Last year, 145,167 fine-car buyers paid $201,000,000 for them.

There are 13 models.

Prices begin at $1,025.

Go see the reasons for this trend. See why sales have almost trebled in three years. Why these cars have become the sensation of Motordom.

You owe that to yourself before you buy a fine car.

Some of our Big-Sixes, for instance, have two nickel-plated bumpers, one or two extra disc wheels with cord tires, a courtesy light, a motometer, steel trunk, etc.

This factory, remember, is the ancient home of fine coach work.

A fine car must be enduring. A Studebaker Big-Six, built in 1918, has so far run 475,000 miles. That means 80 years of ordinary service.

WHY IS IT?

Last week a number of our customers who attended the closing out sale of another store learned to their surprise that the prices offered were higher on many things than our regular retail price.

THE ANSWER

We buy in large quantities, take advantage of every discount by paying cash, we are satisfied with a small gross profit and, so far, our large volume of business has made the net profit satisfactory. We are not a cut rate store; we simply buy as cheap as we can and sell the same way.

Flours are all higher and with the increased tariff, further advances may be expected.

Coffees are also much higher, we are told by people who claim to know, that on account of the Brazilian government forcing buyers to take a big per cent of rain damaged coffee (the last year's crop was badly damaged by rain) with each purchase of good coffee, and at the same price, that all good grades of coffee will be higher yet.
